Dear Santa Claus:
This is what I want. A writing desk, a doll dressed in long baby sister, Helen, wants a doll buggy, a doll dressed as a school girl and a tea set. She is so good that you must not disappoint her. My baby brother, Henry Ash, wants a hobby horse, a big wagon and a chair. I have been a good girl all this year, so be good to me. Please, Santa, don't forget the poor children, especially the little orphans.

A BUSINESS CHANGE.

The Moore Wholesale House of Tyler Takes Over Ezell Grocery House.

A piece of news that has been current here for several weeks, and of which the Herald was advised in private some time ago, has been made public officially. It is the transfer of the Ezell Wholesale Grocery house of this city to the Moore Wholesale house, with headquarters in Tyler.
The Palestine business will be continued with Mr. Claude Joyce as local strong organization and will prove a valuable addition to local business circles.

It has not been made public as yet what the Ezells intend doing.

opening play this year will be "A Soldier of Japan," the story of the Boxer uprising in China. The costumes worn in this play are Oriental and the scenery is in keeping with that country. Specialties will be introduced between each act by the people's favorite, Miss Loretta Graham; Tarlton & Tarlton, musical experts, and Mr.
George Dawson, high-class baritone.
